

December 1, 2020

Thank you for supporting Twinfield Together Mentoring Program this giving season. This year your donation is helping us to:

Keep mentoring pairs connected during this time of increased physical distancing

Kenley and Colin built their friendship around playing hedbanz and reading graphic novels in our Everybody Wins! program. Since they cannot meet in person, they still enjoy reading together during their weekly zoom meet up. They have even figured out a way to play hedbanz online! Keeping this relationship flowing for the year will allow this great friendship to continue once in-person meet ups resume. Just this week Colin said, "I am so glad I still get to see Kenley each week, even if it is just on the computer."

Sustain inter-generational connectivity that strengthens our whole community

Jordan and Rhea have been friends since Jordan was in kindergarten, and their friendship is still growing. As an eighth grader Jordan still appreciates his relationship with Rhea and says, "Rhea brings cool stuff to make crafts. We read, draw and talk. She's a good listener."

Send a message to our Tt participants that their commitment to our community matters

Lazariyah and Myra have been part of our peer program for 2 years. They have always enjoyed being active and crafting together, and this year they are finding ways to stay active on zoom, and are even sending notes to each other with our new pen pal program.

Support youth in reaching out to their mentors with our new Pen Pal program

Pairs are staying connected through sweet drawings and notes.

We could not be making these modifications to programming without your support. You can see more pictures and even donate online by visiting www.twinfieldtogether.net

Our sincerest gratitude for doing your part to keep our pairs connected,

Twinfield Together Mentoring Program Advisory Board
Kenley Freeman, Deb Gonyaw, Marie Maclay, Fred Wilber, Mike Howe, and Ben Koenig